Activity growth outpaced recorded revenue

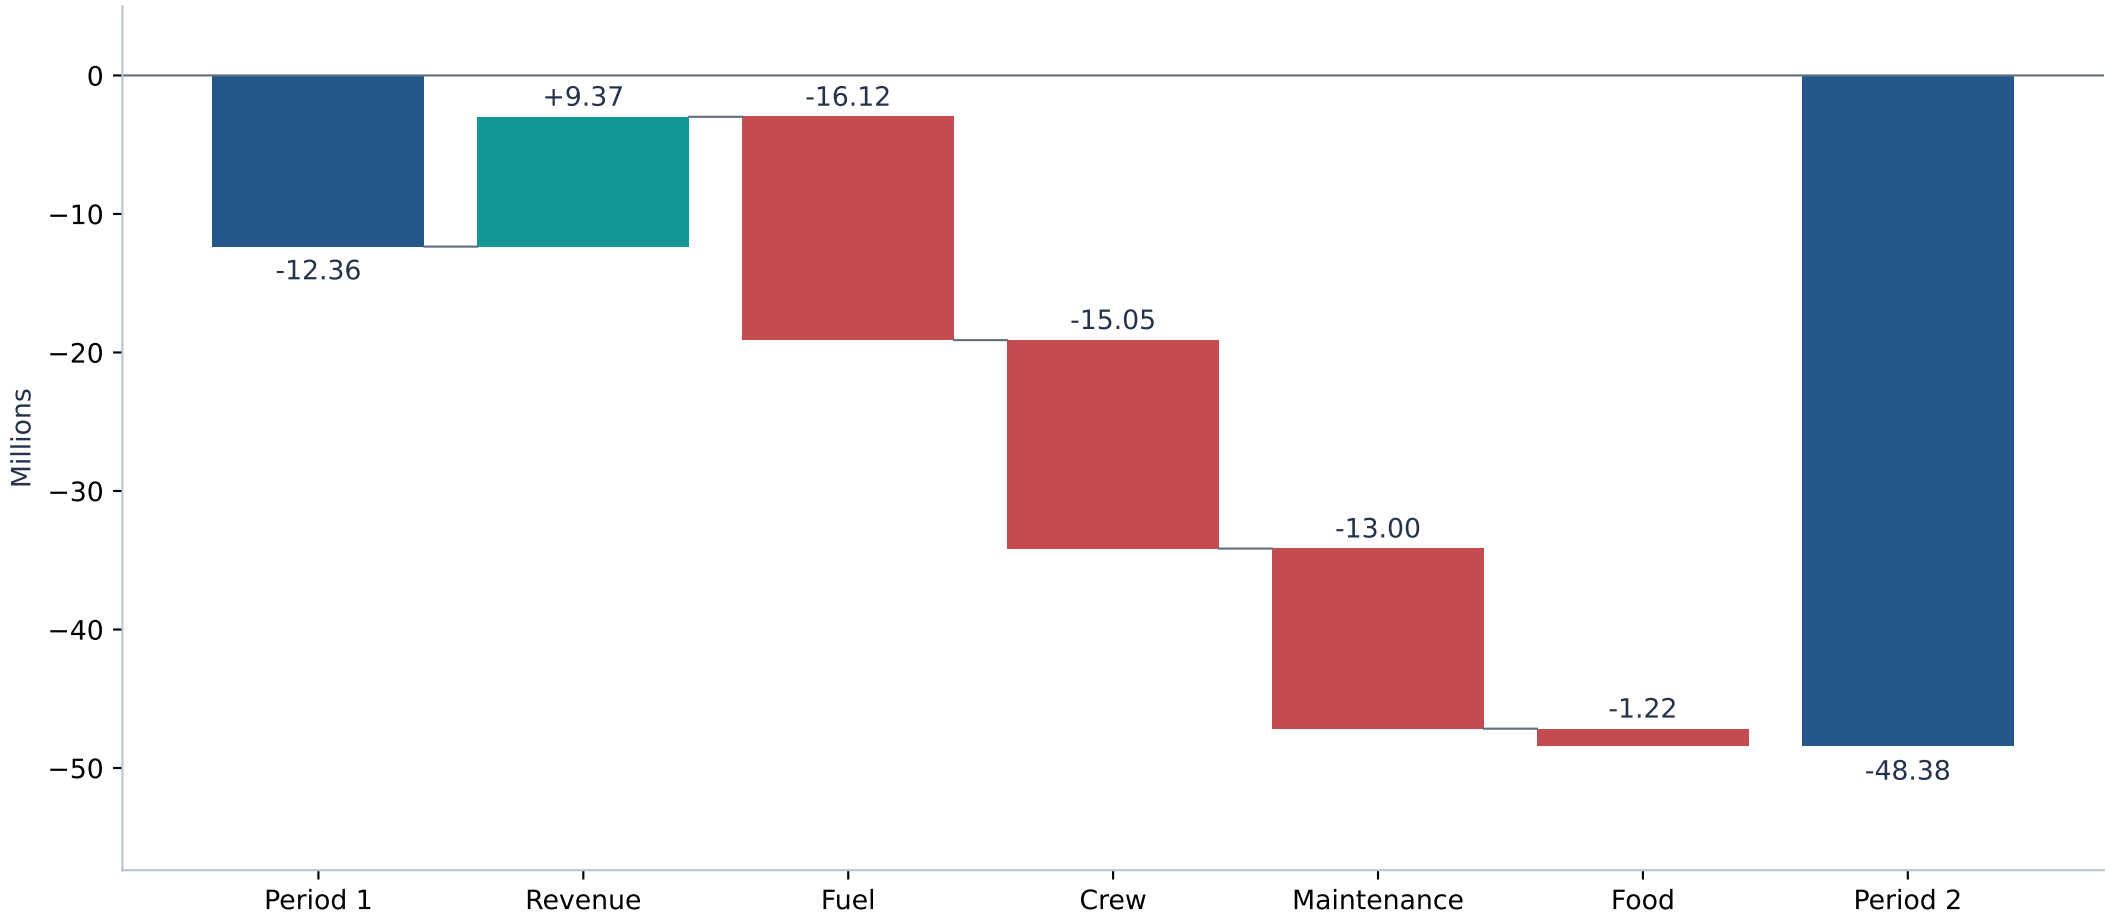

Period 1: Sep 2024–Aug 2025. Period 2: Sep 2025–Aug 2026.
Deduplicated transactions; unspecified source currency. Contribution excludes gates and other unobserved costs.

Every month from March 2025 onward had negative contribution

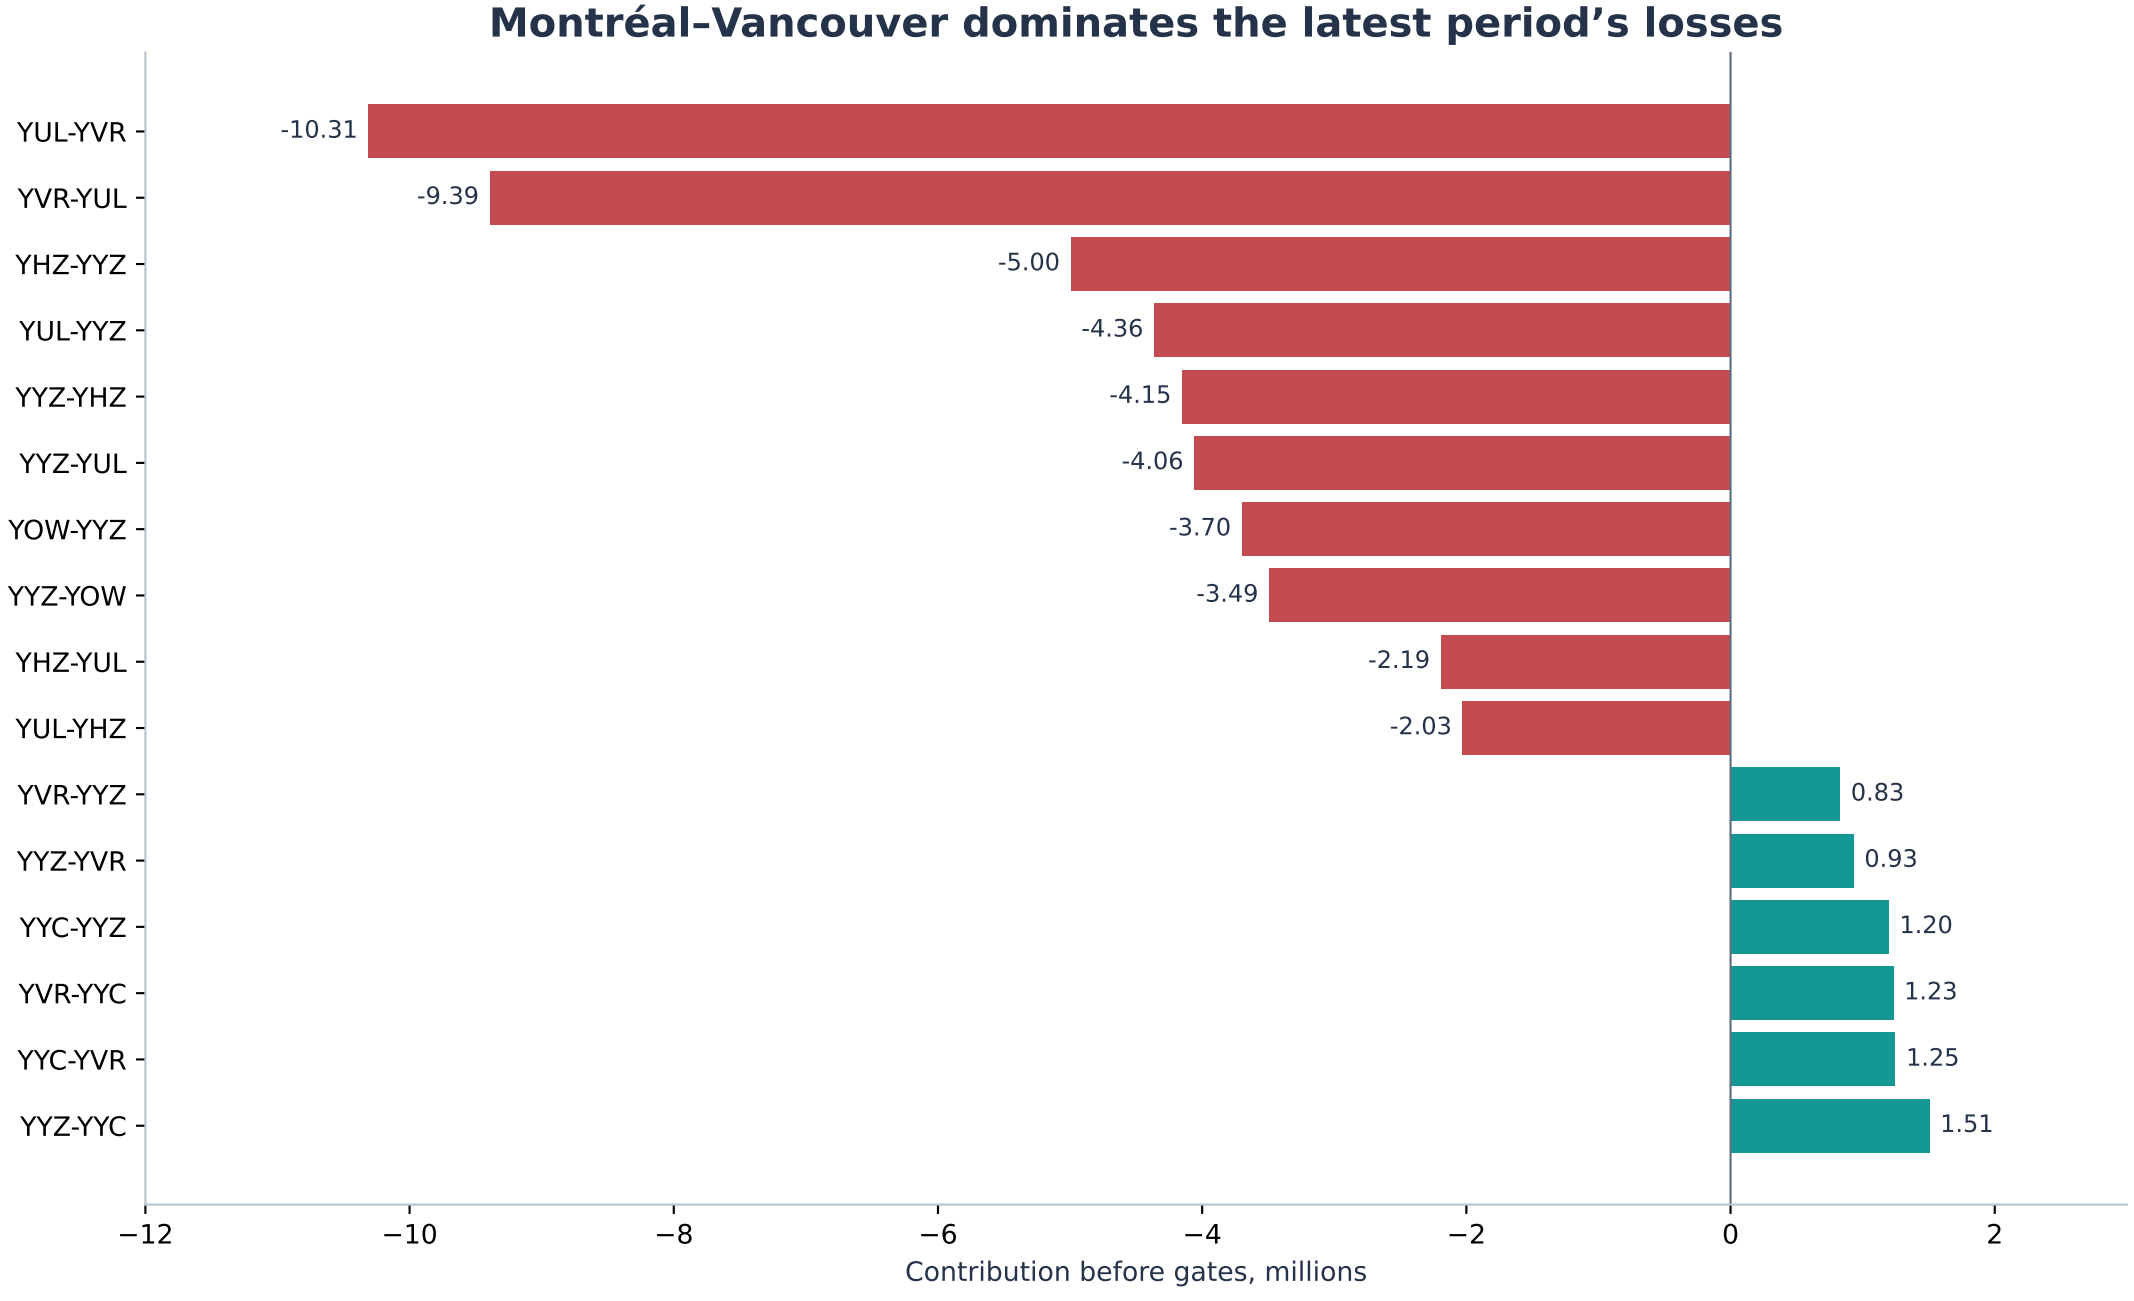

Dashed line separates the two complete comparison periods. Two years do not establish recurring seasonality.
Deduplicated transactions; unspecified source currency. Contribution excludes gates and other unobserved costs.

The 36.02*Mdeteriorationisdrivenbya45.39M cost increase

Deduplicated transactions; unspecified source currency. Contribution excludes gates and other unobserved costs.

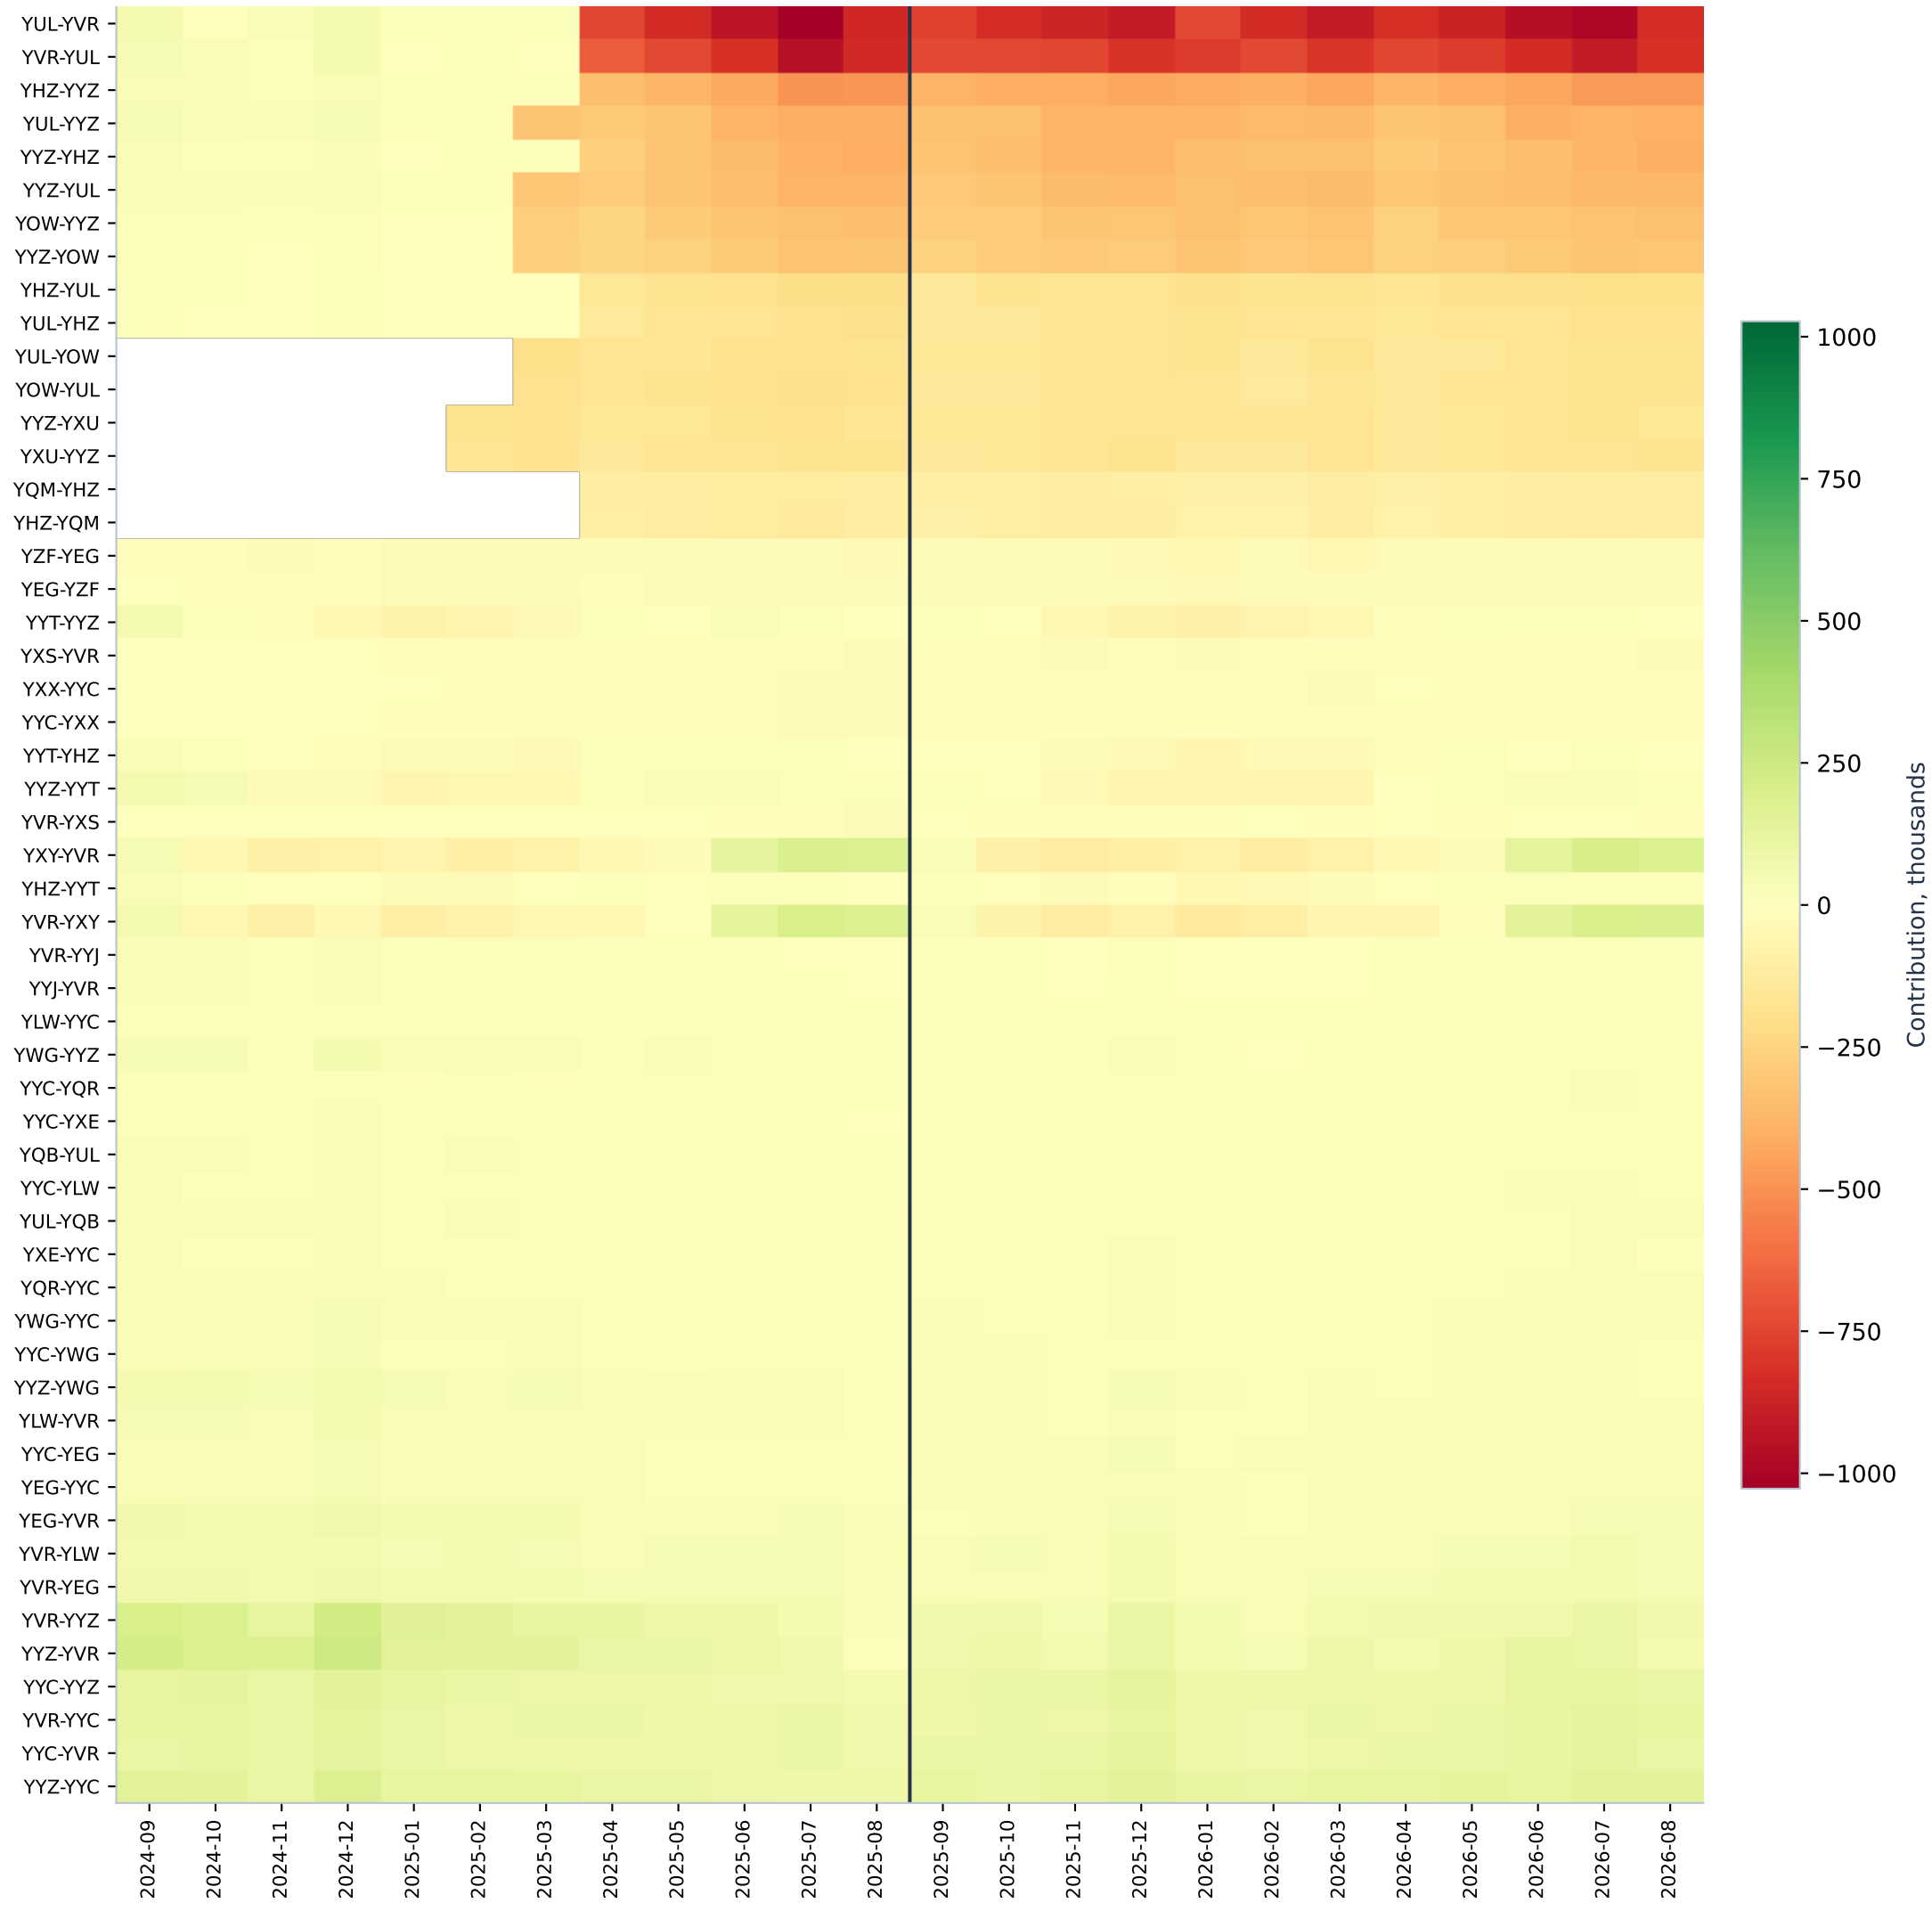

Period 2: ten lowest and six highest directional contributions. Route codes are directional.
Deduplicated transactions; unspecified source currency. Contribution excludes gates and other unobserved costs.

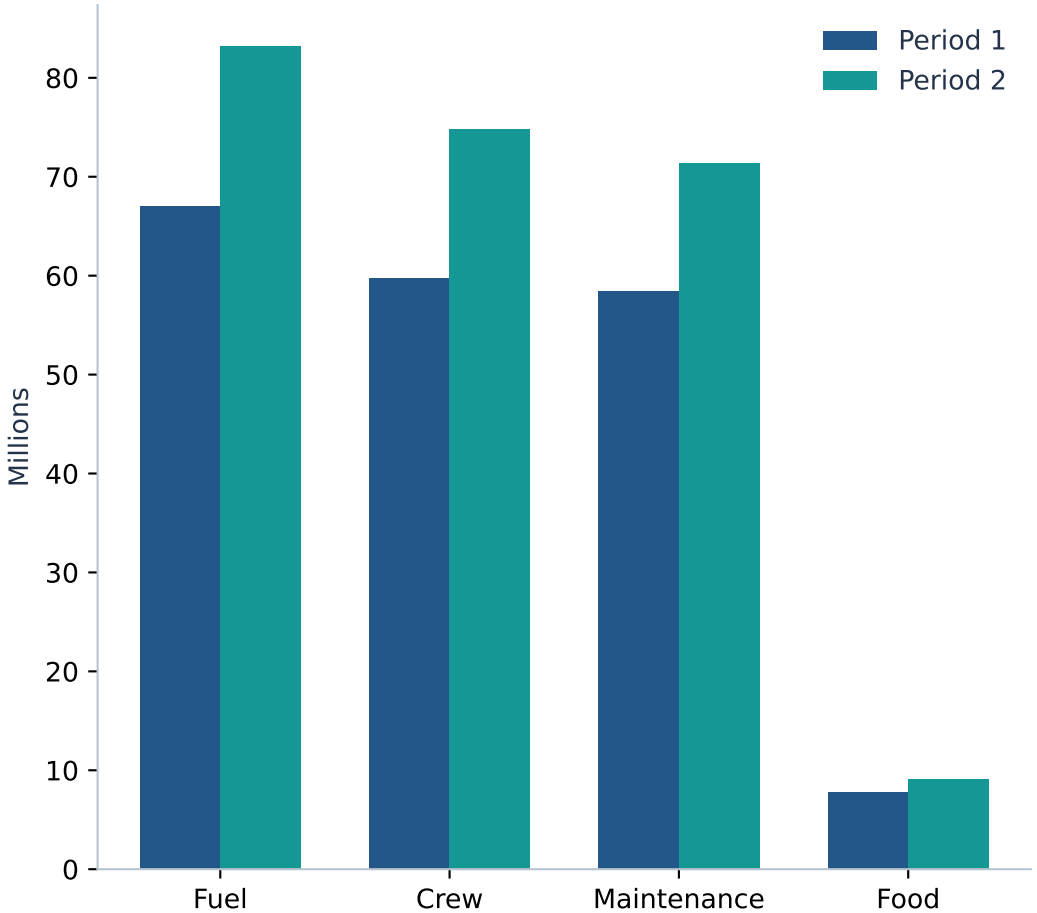

Period 2. Bubble size reflects cost events, a proxy for activity; no passenger or flight IDs are supplied.
Deduplicated transactions; unspecified source currency. Contribution excludes gates and other unobserved costs.

Contribution by route and month, sorted by Period 2 result

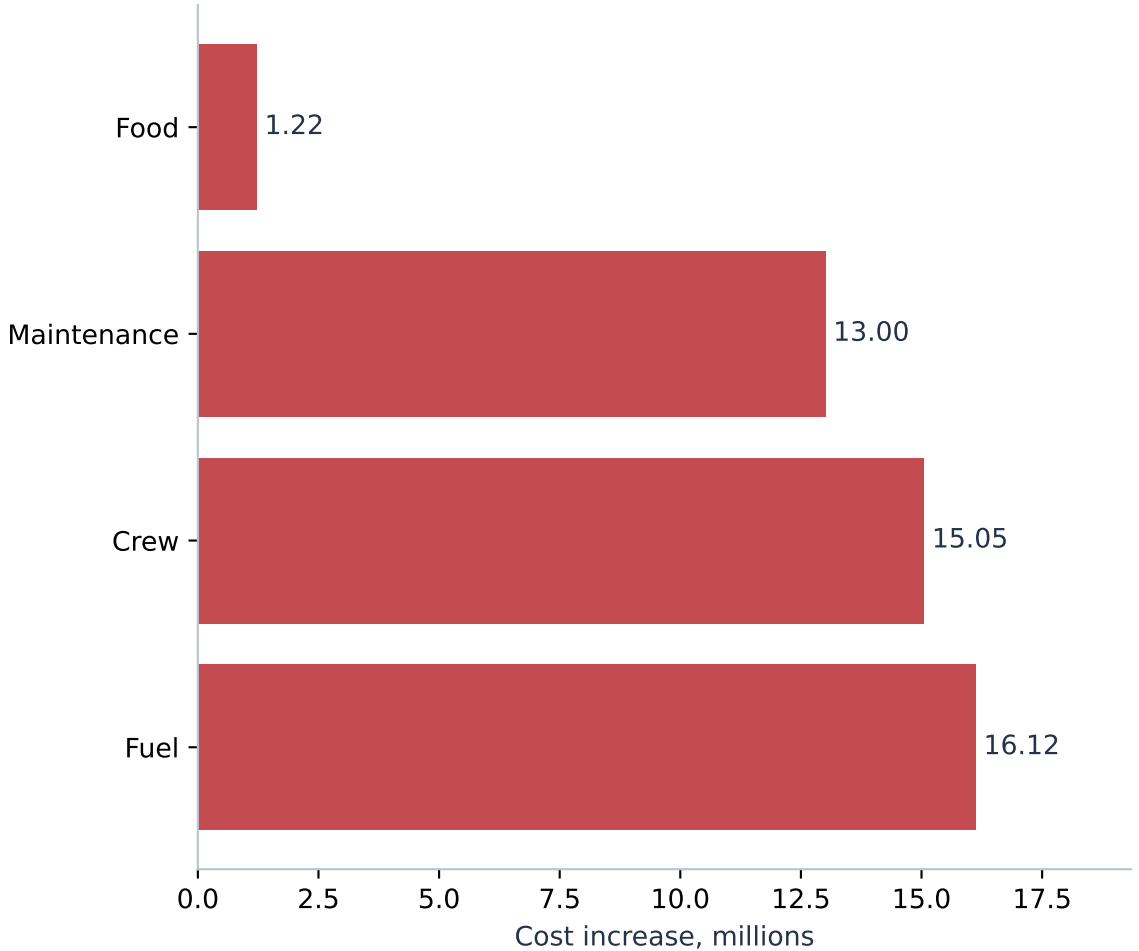

White cells have no recorded activity. Color scale is shared across all route-months.
Deduplicated transactions; unspecified source currency. Contribution excludes gates and other unobserved costs.

Fuel is the largest recorded cost

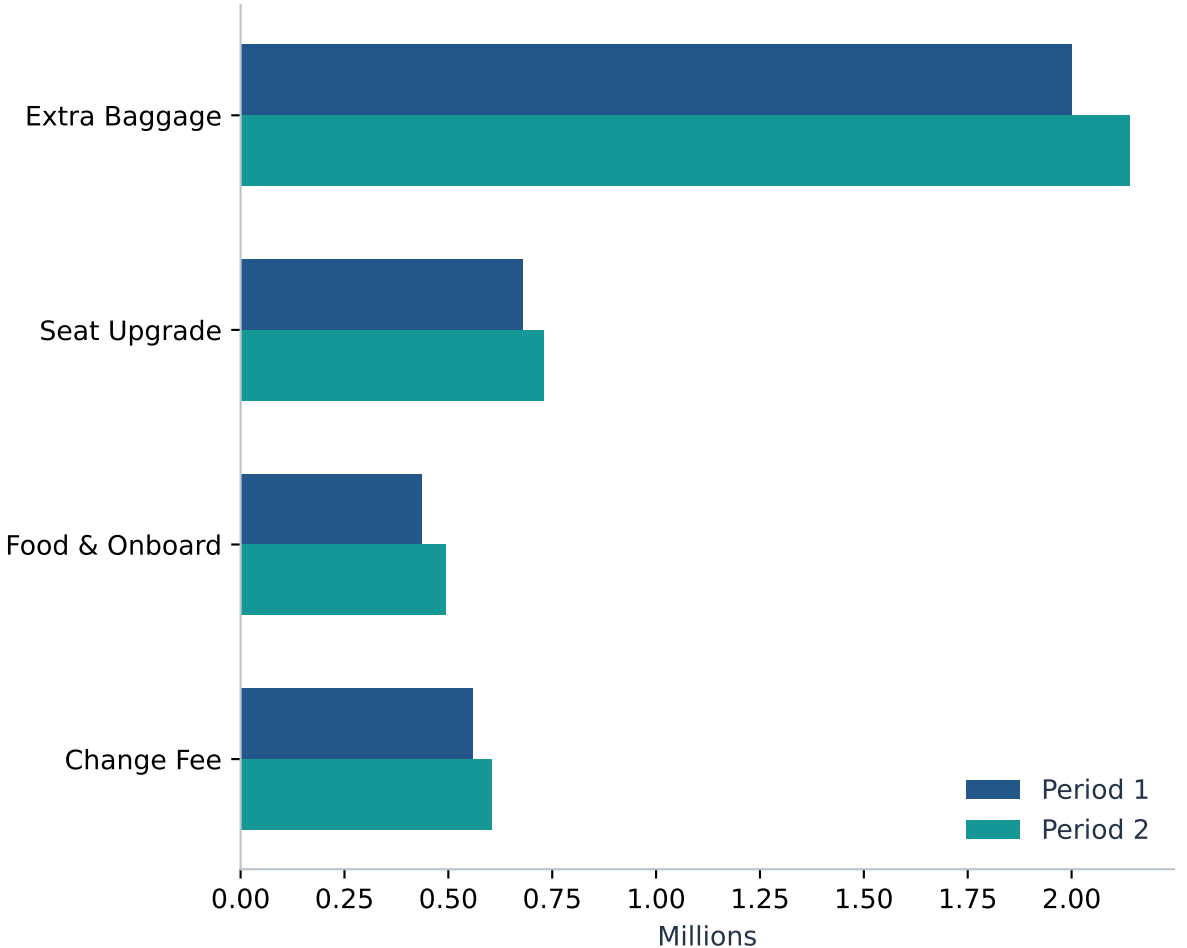

Fuel and crew lead the increase

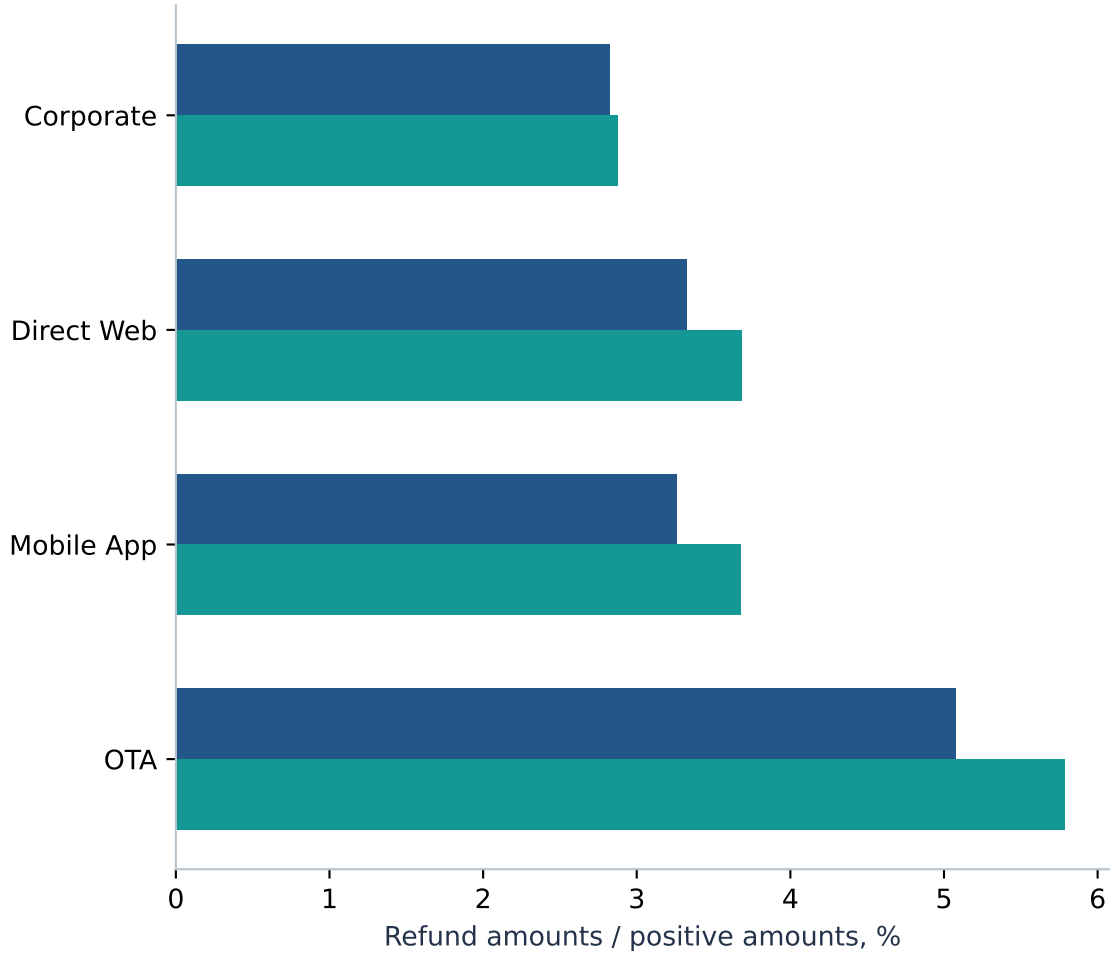

86.4% of total cost growth is associated with more cost events at the Period 1 average cost.
The remaining 13.6% includes cost per event and route-mix changes; it is not isolated inflation.

Paid extras and fees remain small

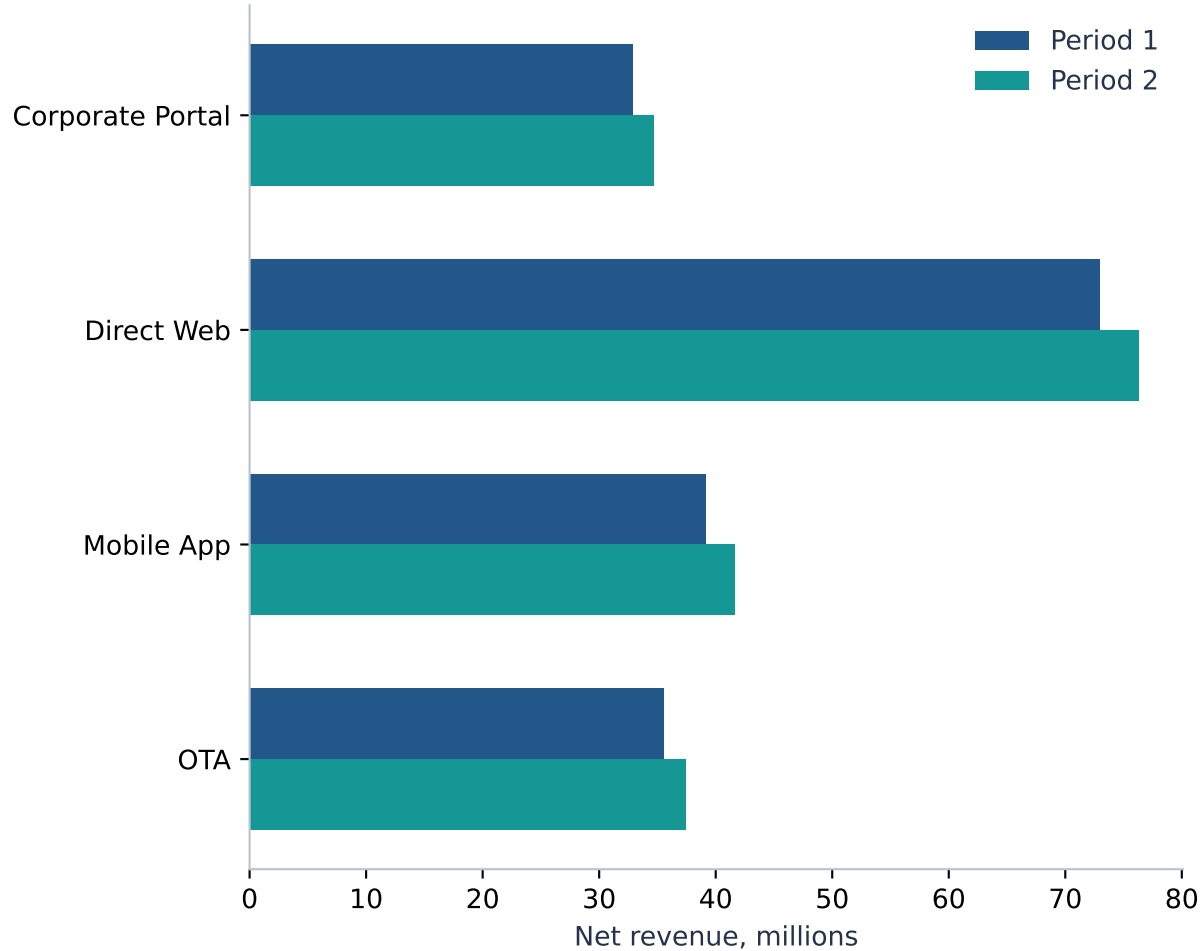

OTA refund burden is highest

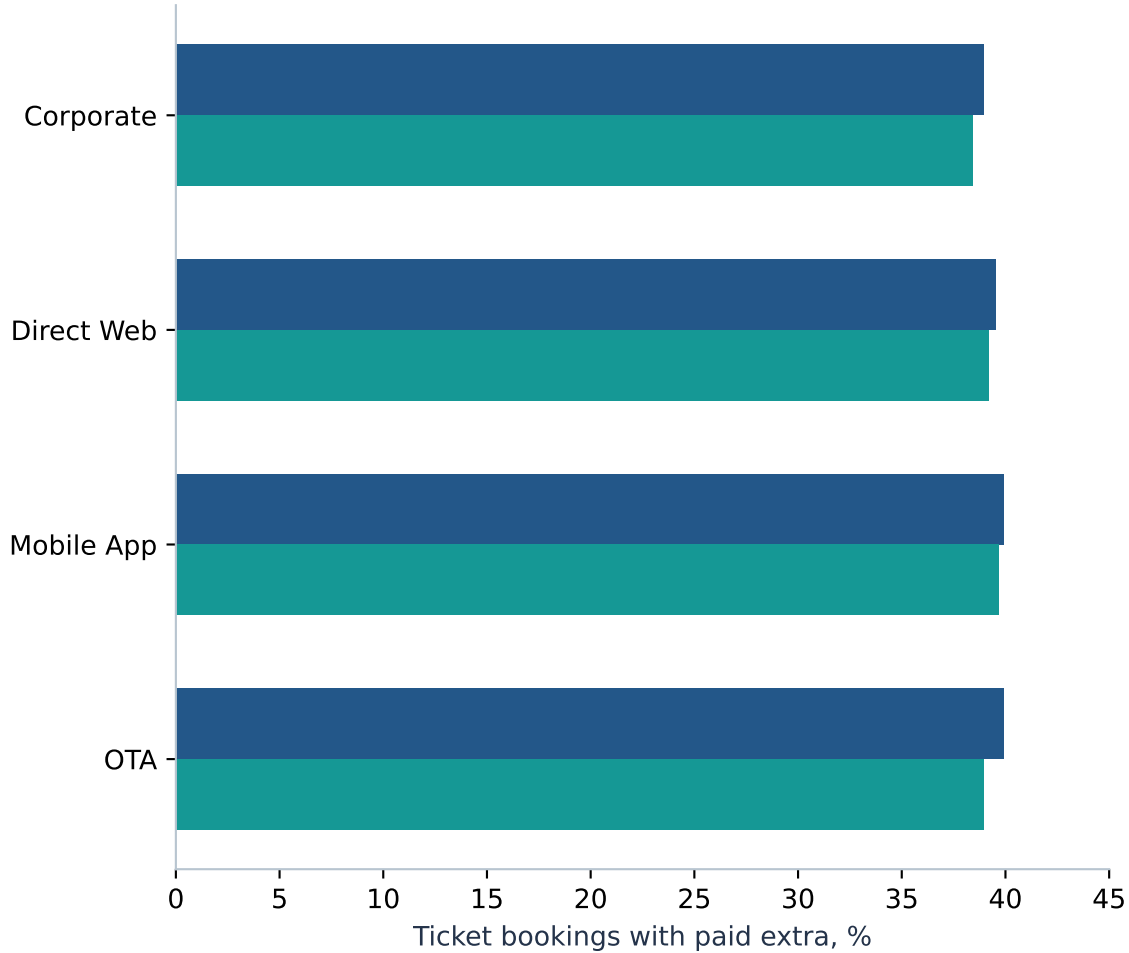

Refund burden is an amount ratio, not cancellation rate. Channels may differ in route, traveler and product mix.
Paid extras: baggage, onboard food and seat upgrades. Change fees are shown separately.

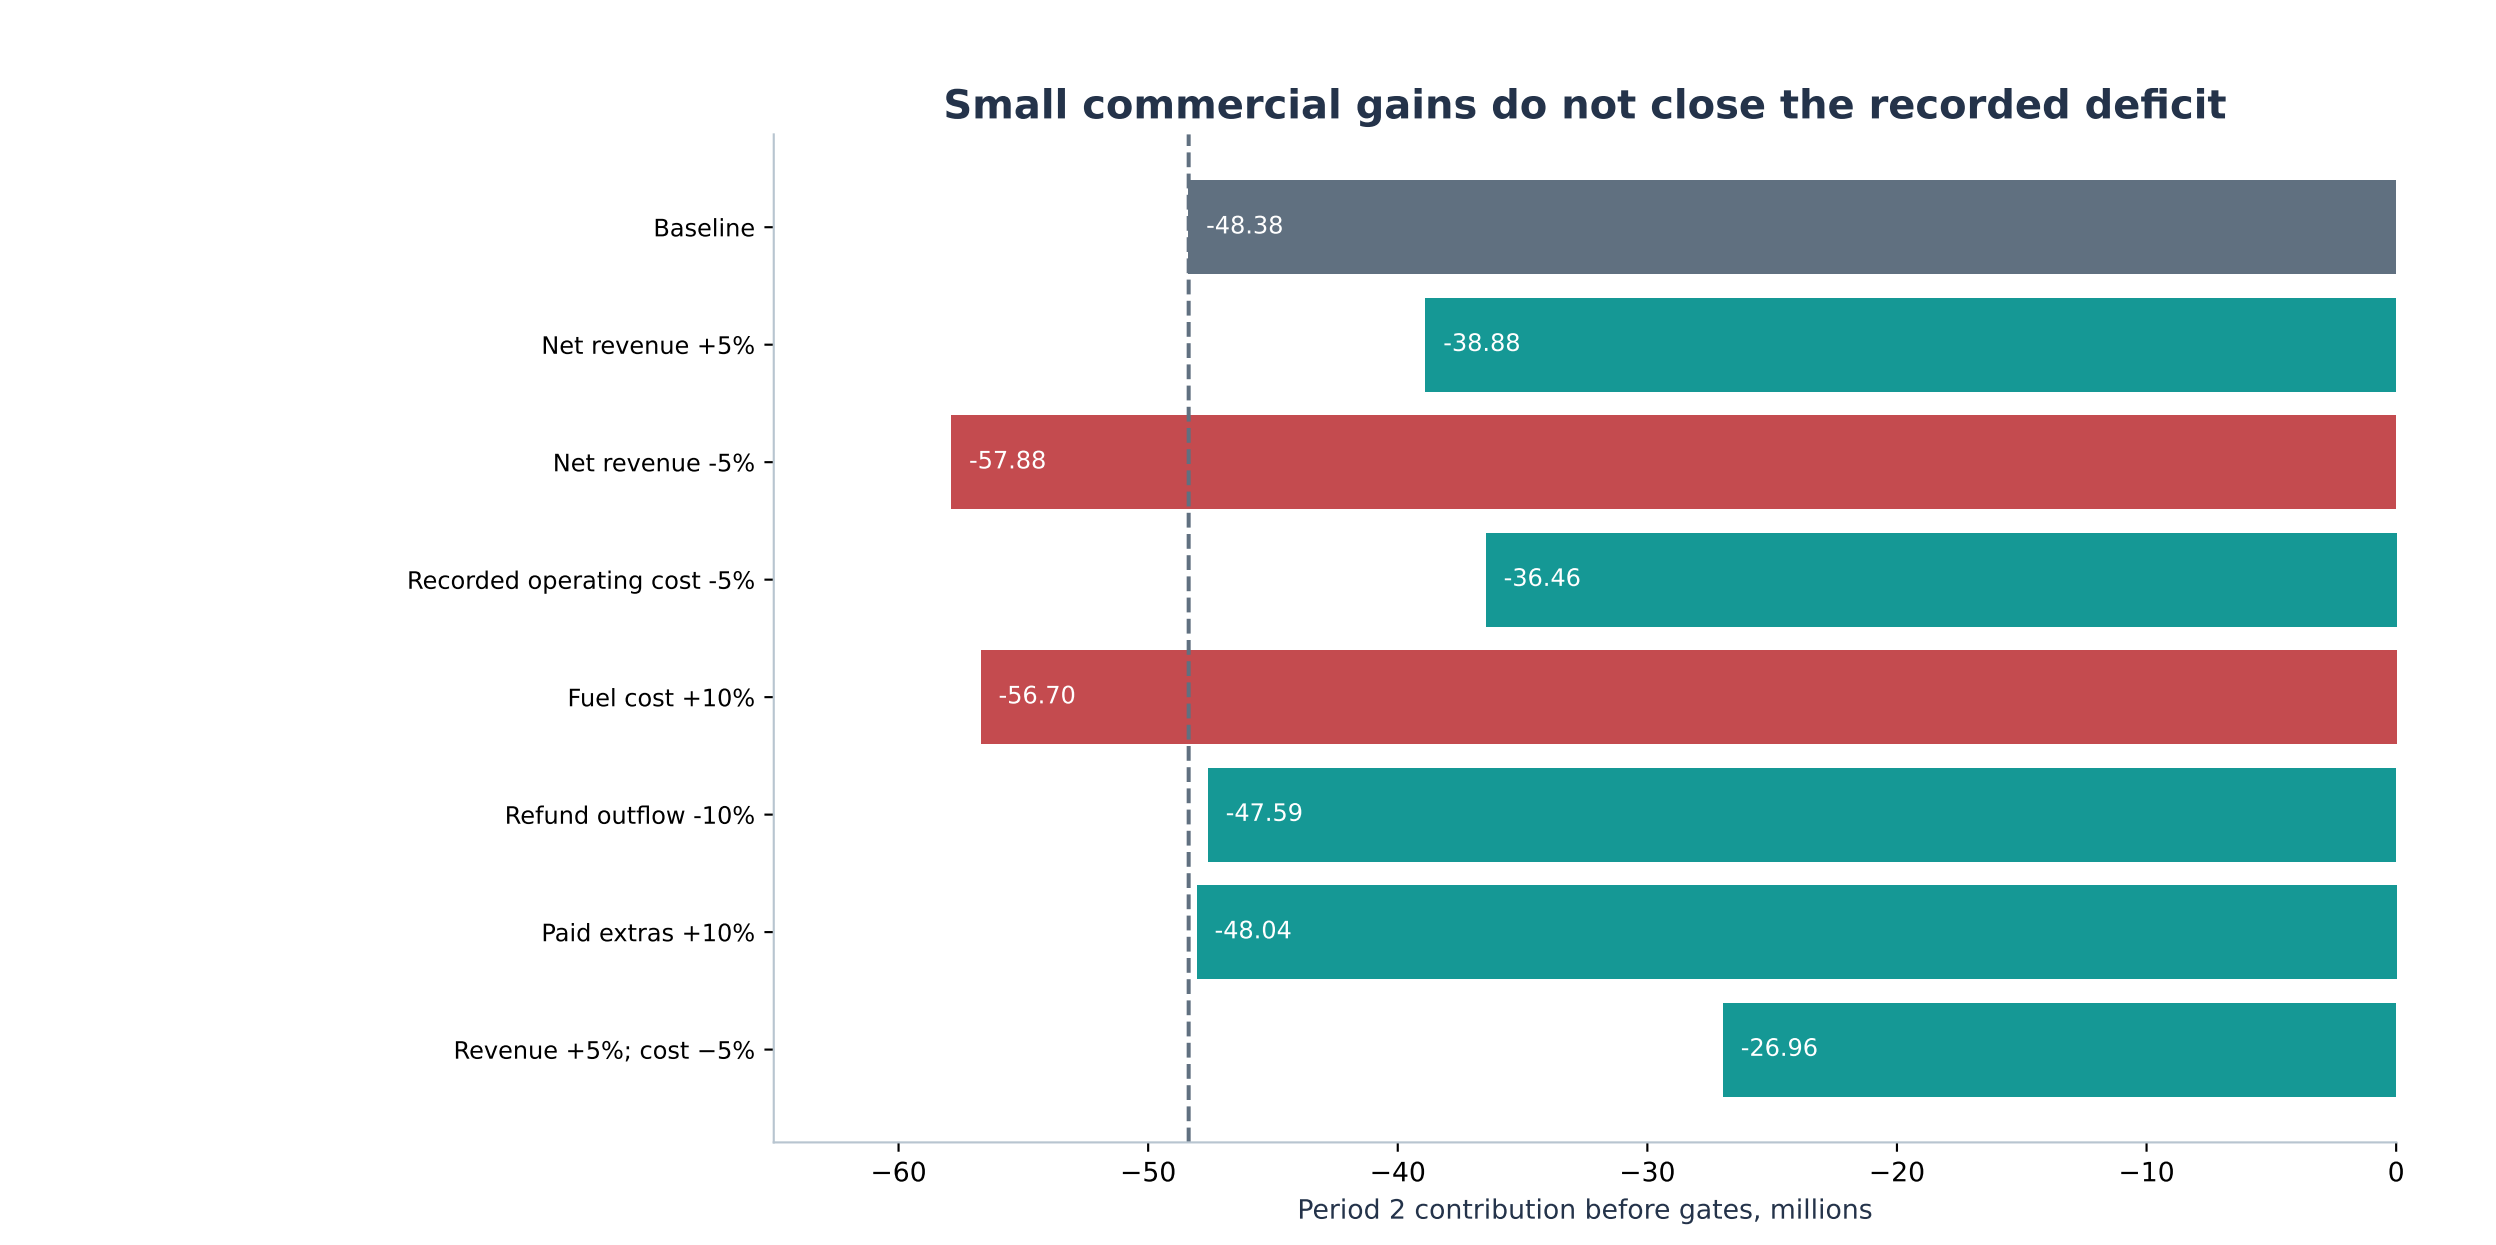

Direct Web supplies 40.1% of revenue

Channel attachment differs by little

Attachment requires a ticket and paid extra on the same booking in the same comparison period.
Channel ticket-value comparisons adjusted for route/month mix are in the commercial tables and report.

Arithmetic sensitivities holding other amounts and activity fixed; these are not forecasts or causal estimates.
Gate charges and all unobserved overhead remain excluded.